ONE WE LOVE,

When we lose one we love When we lose one we love our futtrees tears are called forth by the thought of the bours when our love had been all too slight. If we always had smiled on the one who is gone, there would be no despair in our arief; and some sweetness could cling to our tears, reminiscent of virtues and handles — Manrie Manterlinek.

BAND CONCERTS IN STATUS QUO STILL

Big Crowd at Locust Grove Last Night; Committee Is Busy.

Free band concerts in Tulsa parks are still in status quo, pending the results obtained by a committee of prominent men who started late yeaterday to canvass the business district for donations.

The usual concert was played last night at Locust Grave park and the attendance was larger than last week. The crowd at Central park Wednesday night numbered 4,000 persons.

The chamber of commetee is behind the movement to perpetuate the concerts and has a representative on the committee that is soliciting funds. MUCH THEY SPEND

It is not known whether men in the local yards have voted in the nation-wide canvass of union men, but it is estimated that 90 per cent of the employees belong to the union. The passenger employees are not included in the present controversy, the only cause for them to strike being out of sympathy.
